Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: of the reasons set forth in the prior offie actions. Particularly, the claimed invention is directed to a composition, the method of making the composition, or the scale of making the composition, is not seen to be relevant to the issue herein. Therefore, the declaration by Higashiyama under 35 U.S.C. 1.132 are not probative as to the obviousness of the claimed invention. However, the examiner noticed that the method employed by Shimizu et al. yield a composition meet some of the limitation claimed herein, i.e., low ration of 24,25-,ethylenecholest-5-en 3beta-ol.
